Harmoni Turner, Harvard G, 5-10, Mansfield, Texas

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. – For the first time in 27 years, Harvard women's basketball was represented on the AP All-America Teams as senior guard, Harmoni Turner, garnered Honorable Mention honors this afternoon. Turner turned heads all season with her performance on the court, averaging 22.5 points, 5.4 rebounds, 3.4 assists and 2.8 steals per game to lead the Crimson in all four categories. A Texas native, Turner adds this honor to her already stacked trophy case that includes the 2025 lvy League Player of the Year award, First-Team All-Ivy selection, AP National Player of the Week (Mar. 18) and five Ivy League Player of the Week selections. In addition, Turner is a finalist for several major awards including the Becky Hammon Mid-Major Player of the Year, the World Exposure Report Mid-Major Player/Coach of the Year (alongside her Head Coach, Carrie Moore) and the Jersey Mike's Naismith Women's Player of the Year.

Turner's efforts on the court this season were nothing short of remarkable, as the senior tallied 25 games in double figures and five games with over 30 points. Most notably, Turner set and broke the program record for points in a game. Her 41 points against Boston College (Nov. 14) set the new program standard before the captain passed her own mark just five months later in the Ivy Madness semifinals against Princeton (Mar. 14) with a 44-point outburst. Her efforts helped the Crimson capture its first Ivy League Tournament Championship and clinch a spot in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2007 and for just the seventh time in program history.

Turner is just the second student-athlete in 51-year history of Harvard Women's Basketball to earn a spot on an All-America team, joining program legend Allison Feaster '98, who earned multiple All-America awards from 1996-1998.
